

ASA JONES A WINNER.

He is Confident That He Will be the Next Governor of Ohio.

FACTIONAL FIGHTS MUST STOP.

The Democrats Are Trying to Spread Trouble in the Rank.

HE IS NOT COMMITTED FOR SENATOR

YOUNGSTOWN, May 18.—General A. W. Jones, who is a leading candidate for the Republican nomination of Governor, returned to-day from a trip through the State, and is sanguine that he will have the honor of leading the Republican ticket in Ohio this fall. On being asked regarding the charge made in Democratic papers that he was simply acting as a dummy for Governor Foraker, who wanted a third term, General Jones said:

"While my relations with Governor Foraker are of a pleasant character, I am for myself in this fight and am not pulling out chestnuts for anyone. I am opposed to any factional fight in the State, and if my candidacy should promote any such thing I should certainly decline it. What the Republicans must do is to pull together. If we cannot have a united Republican party we had better have none. I never have been listed under the banner of any leader, and the action of the Republican party in convention has and always shall dictate my action."

HE IS NOT COMMITTED.

"Are you in favor of any particular man for United States Senator?"

"No, sir. I think that the question of a United States Senator should not enter into this canvass in any respect. I think it does not belong to it, but I hope that the Republican party will select a man who will be a credit to the Legislature that will select, in the usual and ordinary manner, some one of the great leaders of the Republican party in Ohio to succeed Senator Payne. With that choice fairly expressed I shall be entirely content, and with that selection, so far as I know, the Governor has no more connection than any other citizen."

"It is said that there was a meeting in Cincinnati of the friends of Senator Sherman to agree upon some candidate in opposition to you. What knowledge have you upon the subject?"

"Personally I have none other than what is stated in the public prints, but if any such meeting was held I have serious doubts about its receiving the approval of Senator Sherman. I think him too good a Republican to be in favor of factional controversies within the party, and I doubt seriously his undertaking to dictate nominations."

"While it is well known that I was a Blaine delegate in the Chicago Convention of 1880, and while I have great respect for Secretary Blaine, I have also had the highest personal regard for Senator Sherman and have been proud of his abilities as a statesman. Our relations, so far as I know, have always been friendly, and last year, in common with other Republicans in this Congressional district, I used what little influence I had in the direction of giving Senator Sherman a solid delegation from Ohio. I can scarce believe that any friends of Senator Sherman are opposing me on any factional grounds."

AT OPPOSITION SCHEME.

"I have noticed in the leading Democratic papers of the State articles of such similarity that I am of the opinion they were dictated by the same master spirit, and for the purpose of getting up a quarrel among Republicans, and of splitting the Republican party into factions to war against each other. I hope they will not succeed in bagging their game.

"I believe that the leaders of the Democratic party understand full well that unless they can induce a quarrel within the party success is assured to the Republican party with any of the candidates that have been named for the State ticket."

We have about 5,000 yards of short pieces (salesmen's samples), 1 1/4 yards long only, of all-wool ingrain, worth 75 cents a yard, to go on Monday morning at less than 17 cents.

The pieces are put up in rolls—10 pieces to the roll, and the price is $2 a roll.
